

Sun Protection Conference

2020s: Looking ahead - a decade of innovation in sun protection
25 – 26 November 2021, Royal College of Physicians, London

Day One – Thursday 25 November

Time		Speaker
08:30	Registration and welcome coffee
09:00	Opening address	Dr Jack Ferguson, Skinovation Ltd, UK
	Session 1: Looking forward to future innovations in sun protection	Chair: Dr Jack Ferguson
09:15	Opening Keynote: Thirty years of Sun Protection Conferences - what has changed?	Prof Brian Diffey, Dermatological Sciences, Newcastle University, UK
10:00	Towards the ideal sunscreen with spectral homeostasis	Uli Osterwalder, Sun Protection Facilitator GmbH, Switzerland
10:30	Networking coffee break
11:00	Keynote: 21st century stressed skin; what can we do to help both now and in the future?	Professor Mark Birch-Machin, Professor of Molecular Dermatology and Faculty Dean of Business Development, University of Newcastle, UK
11:45	Keynote: In the year 2031 what will sun care have become?	Prof Antony Young, King's College London, UK
12:30	DISCUSSION
12:45	Lunch
	Session 2: Satisfying consumer needs in performance, testing, and communication	Chair: Professor Mark Birch-Machin, University of Newcastle, UK
13:45	Sun protection claims - a look into the future	Stephan Bielfeldt, proDERM Institute for Applied Dermatological Research GmbH, Germany
14:15	Photostability of sunscreens – a concern for consumers or formulators or the environment?	Dr Jürgen Vollhardt, DSM Nutritional Products, Switzerland
14:45	Revision of ISO 24443 method for determination of sunscreen UVA photoprotection in vitro	Sebastien Miksa, General Manager, HelioScreen Cosmetic Science, France
15:15	Networking coffee break
15:45	How do I know if my SPF results are correct?	John Staton, Eurofins Cosmetics & Personal Care, Australia
16:15	Insights in Sunscreen UV-Absorber Solubility by Experimental Work and Quantum Chemistry	Prof. Dr. Bernd Herzog Scientific Expert UV Protection, BASF Personal Care and Nutrition GmbH
16:45	Understanding product requirements and communication from the perspective of a dermatologist and consumer	Dr Andrew Birnie, Consultant Dermatologist & Dermatological Surgeon, Chaucer, Canterbury & St Saviours Hospitals , UK
17:15	Panel of experts in open discussion on current topics	Chair: Dr Jack Ferguson, Skinovation Ltd, UK
18:15	Drinks reception sponsored by
19:15	End of first day

Sun Protection Conference

Day Two – Friday 26 November

Time		Speaker
08:30	Registration and welcome coffee
	Session 3: Innovative technologies: the source of innovation in sun protection	Chair: Prof Paul Matts, Procter & Gamble, UK
09:00	Novel digital technology supporting sun protection and vitamin D synthesis by using satellite-based monitoring of spectral solar radiation	Prof Antony Young, King's College London, UK
09:30	Multi-Laboratory Study of Hybrid Diffuse Reflectance Spectroscopy to Assess Sunscreen SPF and UVA-PFs	Dr Mathias Rohr, Institut Dr Schrader Hautphysiologie, Germany
10:00	UV imaging and its role in understanding and improving sunscreen performance	Dr Jonathan Crowther, JMC Scientific Consulting Ltd, UK
10:30	Networking coffee break
11:00	Issues and challenges with nanoparticulate UV-filters (NP-UVF)	Prof. Dr. phil. nat. Christian Surber, Department of Dermatology, University Clinic Basel and Zürich, Switzerland
11.30	TBC	TBC
12:00	Impact of UV filters on the formation of ROS and the balance of the skin microbiome	Ev Süess Global Head Business Unit Sun Protection & Functionals & Colors Cosmetic Ingredients Division, Symrise, Germany
12.30	Lunch
	Session 4: Major issues impacting sun protection concepts and product development	Chair: Dr Jack Ferguson, Skinnovation Ltd, UK
13.15	Optimising Sunscreens for Minimal Environmental Impact	Dr. Stephanie Acker, Technical Manager Suncare, BASF Personal Care and Nutrition GmbH
13.45	Global view of Sun Product Regulations	Sandra Browne, Senior Global Regulatory Manager, Edgewell Personal Care Products, Republic of Ireland
14.15	An update on ISO sun product testing and a look into the future	Dr Mark Pissavini, Coty Inc, Monaco
14.45	Will anyone care when sunscreens are gone...?	Prof Paul Matts, Procter & Gamble, UK
15.20	Concluding remarks and discussion	Dr Jack Ferguson and Prof Paul Matts
15:30	Conference closes	